Estimating Your Out-of-Pocket Costs

Your actual out-of-pocket costs may vary based on factors specific to your provider and/or your plan. Some plans base their reimbursement rates on a percentage of "usual, customary, and reasonable" charges, which is referred to as "UCR." Others use a formula based on the Medicare fee schedule that is published by the US Department of Health and Human Services. To learn how your health plan determines out-of-network reimbursement rates and covered services, call the number listed on the back of your insurance card. Then, using the buttons below, estimate your out-of-pocket costs using the method that your plan uses to calculate reimbursement. You may also view a comparison of both reimbursement methods.

Please note: the Medicare-based method is not intended to reflect estimated reimbursement amounts for Medicare beneficiaries. It is meant to reflect reimbursement amounts for members of private health plans that base reimbursement rates on the Medicare fee schedule.

FAIR Health Does Not Determine Your Plan's UCR

FAIR Health does not determine, develop, or establish any fee, reimbursement level or UCR for any procedure or service. Your plan is responsible for setting your actual reimbursement level, or UCR, and may use FAIR Health benchmark data when making this determination. FAIR Health data reflect benchmark market rates, which are what providers typically charge for a procedure or service in a particular geographic area. Estimates provided on this website are for informational purposes only.
